

News Release

Royalty Crowned at U of M Crookston's 2007 Ag Arama on Saturday, Jan. 27, 2007

By Elizabeth Tollefson on Monday, January 29, 2007

CROOKSTON, Minn. (January 29, 2007) – Coronation at Ag Arama 2007 was held at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) on Saturday, Jan. 27, 2007. Royalty crowned were King Cory Detloff, Bertha, Minn., Queen Amy Konradi, Canby, Minn., Prince Matt Przekwas, Roseau, Minn., and Princess Danika Kent, Lancaster, Minn.

King Cory Detloff, Queen Amy Konradi, Prince Matt Przekwas, Princess Danika Kent

The faculty of the agricultural management division at UMC nominate the candidates and a panel of judges selects the male and female students they feel best reflect the goals and spirit of the UMC Agricultural Management Division. Selection is based on congeniality and involvement in the division along with campus activities.

Ag Arama is an annual winter competition that features contests for students in agronomy, animal science, horticulture, and natural resources. Through these contests the event allows current students to showcase their knowledge and skills in their major area of study and gives them a chance interact with each other, with alumni, and with faculty members. Ag-Arama is planned and operated by a committee of UMC students and advised by UMC faculty members.

For information on programs in agriculture, natural resources and horticulture at UMC, visit <http://academics.umcrookston.edu> or call 218-281-8569.

The University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) delivers more than 24 different undergraduate degree programs, including online options, in agriculture; arts, humanities and social sciences; business; math, science and technology; and natural resources. UMC is dedicated to helping students and the region aim higher, reach further and dream big dreams. To learn more, visit www.UMCrookston.edu.

News Categories

Events

Awards and Recognition

 Tweet

 Like 0

 Share

News Home

News Archives